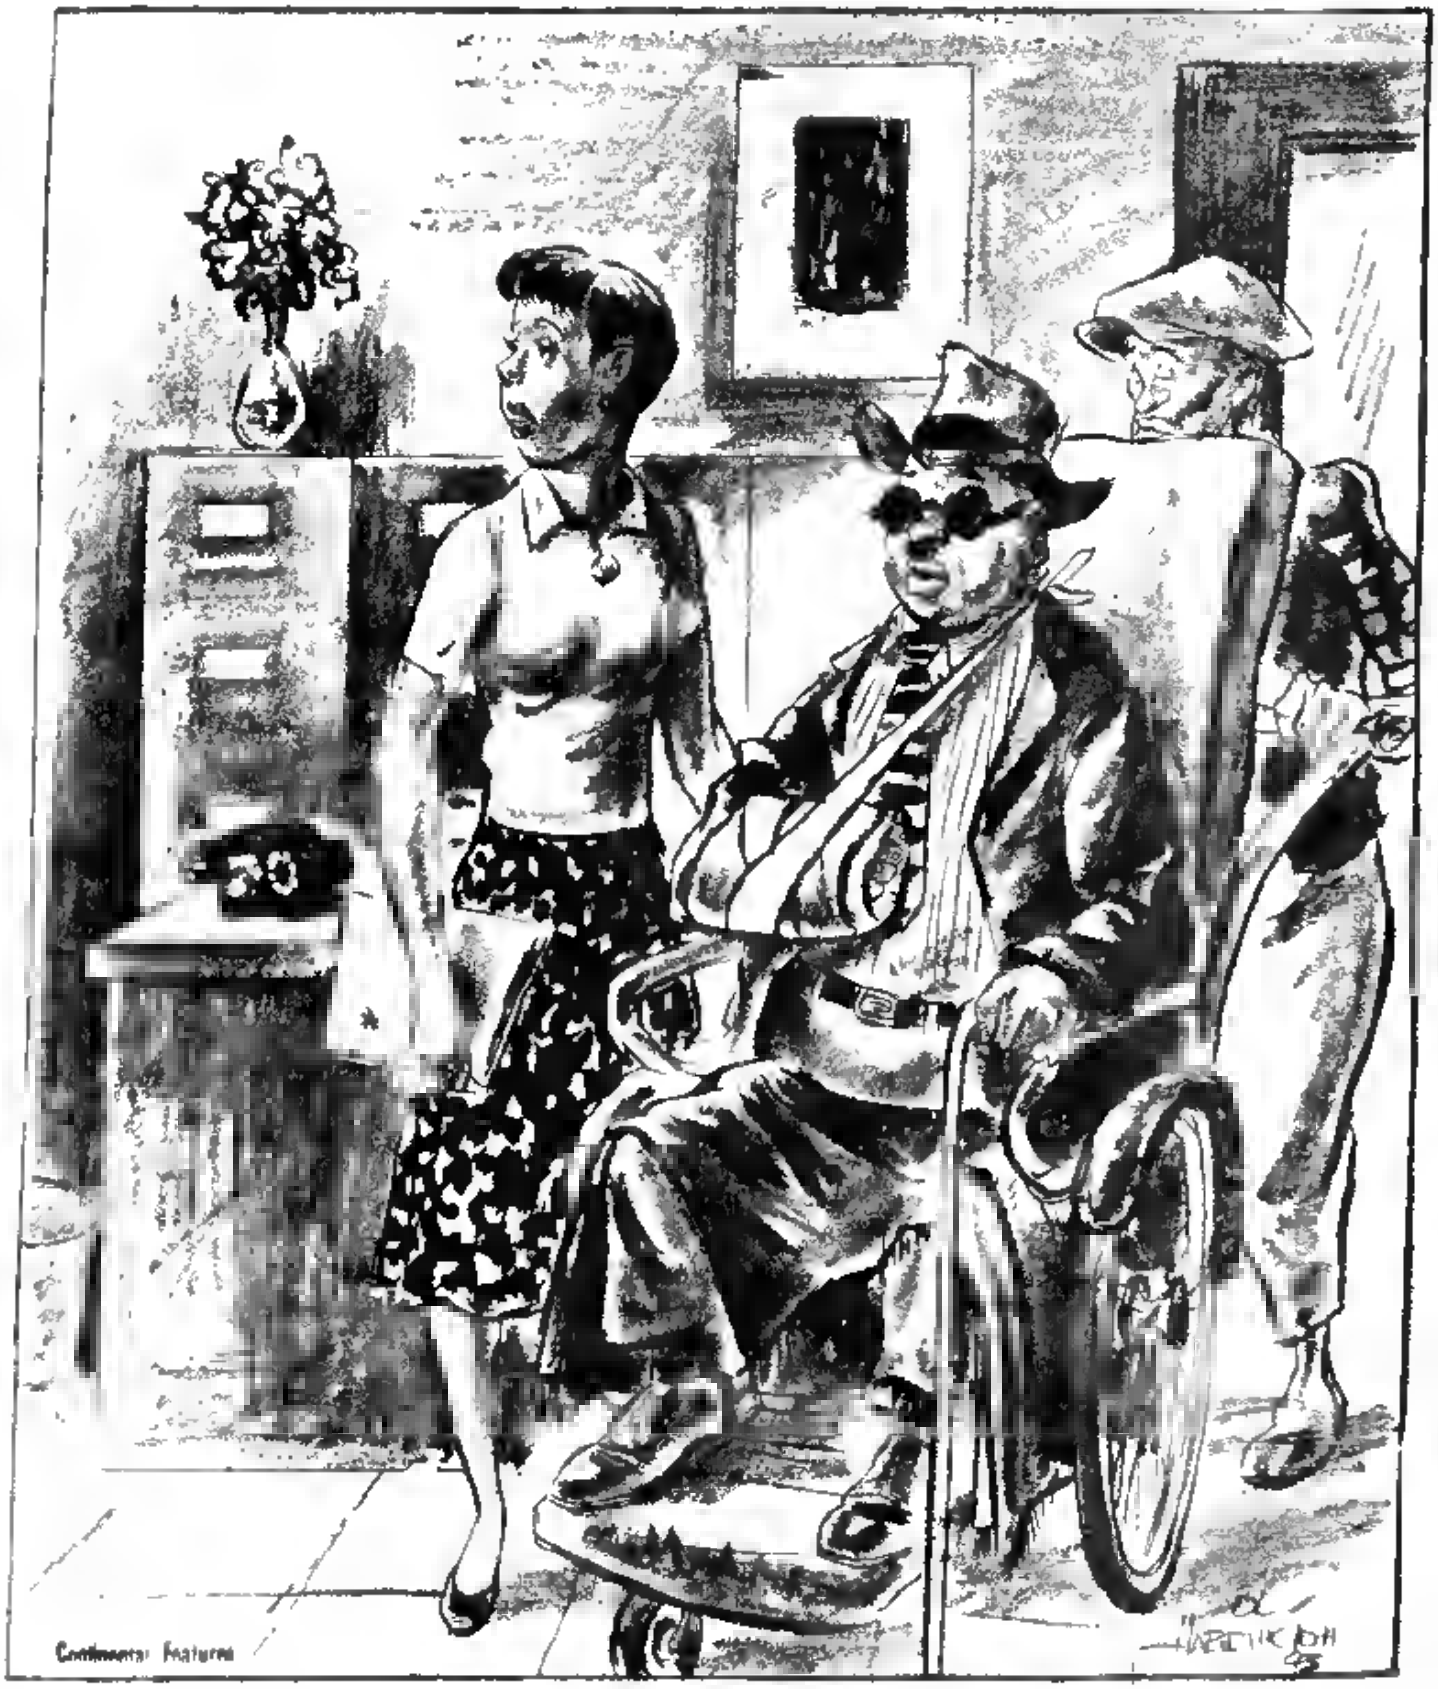
Dark Laughter . . .. . BY OL HARRINGTON



"THERE'S A GENT HERE NAMED MR. BOOTSIE—He says that we sent him a card for him to come in an' 'take his physical'."

Dark Laughter . . . . BY OL HARRINGTON

The boys wuz enjoyin' themselves fine— then Brother Bootsie asked somebody who wuz goin' to win the war."

Dark Laughter . . . . BY OL HARRINGTON

"You big baboon, you think you can make me quit you, don't-cha? Well, I ain't, see—not 'til after Christmas."

Dark Laughter . . . . BY OL HARRINGTON

"Now you is a military man, ain't ya? Well, me and Bootsie wants some information. How many tanks, guns and planes do you figger we needs to supply y'll with to beat Hitler?"

Dark Laughter . . . . BY OL HARRINGTON

"Now, Pluto, you stop beatin' your Uncle Bootsie with the present he give you Go outside an' beat somebody who ain't give you nothin'."

Dark Laughter . . . .

BY OL HARRINGTON

"Guess we better not leave the tree up too long—the landlord may think we got something an' jack up the rent."

DARK LAUGHTER . . . By Ol Harrington

"Say, Bootsie, old man, where did you say you got them tickets?"